

Washington Elementary School

Art Showing

Wonderland Hill Development Company invites art lovers, history buffs, and others to view the art at the former Washington Elementary School in Boulder.

The art is a collection of student art that was created in collaboration with various artists-in-residence at Washington Bilingual Elementary in the early 1990's.

When Wonderland Hill Development Company purchased the decommissioned school in 2008, the art had been left with the school. In an effort to preserve these beautiful and historically-relevant creations, they have been removed, cleaned and gathered together as a collection.

You are invited to come see this collection on Saturday, March 20, 2010, 2 to 4 pm.
in the old school building at 1215 Cedar Avenue, Boulder
